Good Design is Sustainable, Great Design is Responsible.

Project information

That sustainability and design go well together shows Cartoni on the basis of her designs. With an ever-growing world population, the importance of reusing material is necessary. For this reason, we are constantly looking for waste material to be able to convert this into new raw materials. We process these non virgin raw materials in a circular manner so that the materials can be recycled after use. We not only cherish the raw materials and our environment, but also the people we work with. Cartoni gives people with a distance to the labor market a chance to produce the furniture together. Without losing sight of the aesthetics because it all starts with the design! For example, our lamp the Cartoni 900, produced from recycled cardboard, is nominated in 2018 as the best of year product in the leading magazine Interior Design. This lamp can be admired during ICFE 2019.
