TITLE OF EXHIBITION

Glass & Ceramic light collection

Project information

Designer Roos Kalff has developed a captivating aesthetic idiom that bridges past and present, echoing historical designs in contemporary pieces which are alike functional and sustainable. New work from her glassware series uses vintage glassware as the material basis to create lighting and table pieces, subtly manipulating the form and function of the original objects. All the glassware is handmade and each piece is unique, composed of individually selected items combining existing glassware with ceramic elements of cast glass.
